The principal address of the morning was made by Ernest F. Du Brul, who spoke on the use of "trade acceptance," a new form of commercial and negotiable paper which came into existence after the founding of the federal reserve board, and which he stated is a more desirable form of paper than the ordinary note, being far more flexible and negotiable at any bank.

The following were elected as diectors of the association for the next three years: Rawlins D. Best, George L. Storm, Roger G. Sullivan, Joseph F. Cullman, jr.; Albert Breitung, Joseph Simon, W. H. Winstead, S. P. Coe, Howard Hazlett, Morris Kaplan, G. P. Waidely, A. L. Cuesta, Charles Fox and Julius K. Lichtenstein.

"This is accentury of speed; a rapid transit of thought, and every employer who lags behind is doomed to defeat. If you want to keep earning you want to keep learning. Every time the clock ticks the other fellow is finding a new way to do an old thing. Friendship is an obsolete term where merit is a factor. There is no profit in any deal that kills a customer. The accomplishment of an extraordinary job is an ordinary event today. We are short, however, of office boys. We lack men who can do a little job in a big way."

Representative Foley of New York said that "beer, whisky and cigars are the great 'trinity' which runs the United States government." These are the only voluntary taxes paid in the United States, he said. United States, he said.

Other speakers were R. Goodwyn Rhett, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce: Senator Duncan U. Fletcher of Florida and Col. C. E. Webb, secretary of the Tobacco Association of the United States.

A letter was read from President Wilson expressing regret that he was unable to attend.

It is recited that a special committee of the central body consisting of George Myers, B. A. Spellbring and Hugh D. It is also recited that if the contract goes through "Mr. Wardman will be the beneficiary of $180,000 at the expense of organized labor of this city."

HONOR MEDAL LIST TO BE SCRUTINIZED

Awards for Other Than Distinguished Conduct in Battle to Be Withdrawn.

When the army reorganization bil es into effect July 1 the Secretary War will have to appoint a board omposed of five general officers on the retired list to investigate and report whether any congressional medals of honor "have been awarded or issued for any cause other than distinguished conduct by an officer or enlisted man in action involving actual conflict with an enemy by such officer or enlisted man or by troops with which he was serving at the time of such action." The section providing for the ap-ointment of the board provides also that in any case where the board shall find and report that the medal of honor was issued for any cause other than was issued for any cause other than that specified "the name of the recipient of the medal so issued shall be stricken permanently from the official medal of honor list." The wearing or public display of such a medal is made a misdemeanor, and if the recipient is still in the army the medal must be returned to the War Department for cancellation.

May Be Aimed at Gen. Wood. An impression prevails that that sec tion of the bill is aimed at Maj. Gen Leonard Wood, the senior officer on the characterized as unwarranted interference with the lawful trade of members of the association with Holland, and it was decided that the board of directors and the executive committee shall bring the matter before the State Department and take such steps as may be proper in the premises to secure the required relief.

Resolutions expressing the thanks of the association to its president and secretary were unanimously passed.

Resale Prices Considered.

It also was unanimously voted that the association favors the passage of an act of Congress legalizing the fixing and maintaining the resale prices of proprietary or trade-marked articles, and that such steps be taken by the association as may be proper and needful in furtherance of the passage of such legislation.

Other women who have been discussed as presidential timber, but who have not formally agreed to run for the office, are Mrs. John Dickinson Sherman and Mrs. George Bass, both of Chicago, and Miss Mary Garrett Hay of New York.

Miss Hay is quoted as saying that under no circumstances would she be a candidate. Her principal reason was that she did not consider it federation etiquette for a member of a local board acting as hostess to accept any office.

Others Show Reluctance. Mrs. Sherman and Mrs. Bass also have expressed reluctance to enter the contest. Miss Georgia A. Bacon of Worcester, Mass., another candidate for the presidency during the early days of the convention; has withdrawn her name, and is now on the slate for the office of first vice president; with no opponents.

John Barrett, director general of the Pan-American Union, has forwarded to the National Federation of Women's Clubs, in convention at New York, a recommendation that a special committee be appointed to consider the advisability and ways and means of holding a pan-American conference of women in some capital of the American republics in 1920. Such a conference could accomplish good, Mr. Barrett said, by considering questions having to do with the welfare of women and children.

It is understood this project wil be considered at a pan-American dinner of the Women's Federation tonight at the Hotel McAlpin in New York.

WANT SYLVAN THEATER ON MONUMENT GROUNDS

Mrs. Hemmick and Mrs. Shepherd Lead Movement for Free Shakespearean Plays.

To provide a sylvan municipal theater in Washington for the presentato outdoor scenery on the grounds of the Washington monument is the hope who met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Christian D. Hemmick. Studio House, Sheridan Circle. Leading in the movement with Mrs.

and for some years prior to her mar-riage one of the stars under the direc-tion of the late Charles Frohman. Suggested by Mrs. Hemmick.

Hemmick is Mrs. R. D. Shenherd.

known to the stage as Odette Tyler,

The idea of securing a sylvan theater occurred to Mrs. Hemmick following the presentation of the Shakespearean masque on the Washington Monument grounds Saturday evening At a glance she saw that the idea of having Shakespeare for the people would prove a great success and with this end in view enlisted the aid of Mrs. Shepherd.

Mrs. Shepherd,
Together they saw Col. W. W. Harts, superintendent of public buildings and grounds, yesterday and motored with him over the scene of the proposed theater. His opinion was that the improvements would cost in the neighborhood of $600. The idea in mind now is to find some way by which Col.
Harts may be authorized to expend the necessary sum needed for the proposed improvement.

Washington's Good Fortune.

Washington is particularly fortunate, according to Mrs. Hemmick, in that it has two Shakespearean stars in Mrs. Shepherd and her husband, the latter known to the stage as R. D. MacLean, who are willing to give their time and effort to the cause.

It is proposed that Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd present in the spring and fall of each year a series of Shakespearean plays on the proposed sylvan effort to the cause.

It is proposed that Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd present in the spring and fall of each year a series of Shake-spearean plays on the proposed sylvan theater stage, and that the necessary support can be drawn from the Washington Players' group, which is under the direction of Mrs. Hemmick. From time to time, it is suggested, other outdoor plays can be staged there, but the main object is to aid the public of Washington to a better understanding of Shakespeare and his plays.

Expense Reduced to Minimum.

The topography of the site of the proposed theater on the Monument grounds is such, Mrs. Hemmick says, that the necessary expense is reduced to a minimum, and when the idea in mind has been brought to a reality will, she believes, bring the "greatest goo to the greatest number.

What, has, particularly, impressed both Mrs. Hemmick and Mrs. Shepherd was the deep interest shown in the masque of Saturday evening by the mothers, who came from many parts of the city with their little ones to see the presentation, some being on the scene three hours before the opening of the masque.
